

The John K. Fairbank Center for Chinese Studies and the Edwin O. Reischauer Institute of Japanese Studies at Harvard University invite applications for a special post-doctoral fellowship for a recent Ph.D. in any field of East Asian studies. This will be a 24-month fellowship (2013-2015), commencing on July 1, 2013, and the annual fellowship stipend will be $60,000. Application deadline: February 15th, 2013

.

The John K. Fairbank Center for Chinese Studies and the Edwin O. Reischauer Institute of Japanese Studies at Harvard University announces a special post-doctoral fellowship for the 2013-2015 academic years, for a recent Ph.D. in any field of East Asian studies, with extensive expertise in the digital humanities or qualitative digital data management in the social sciences. The fellow will be expected to assist faculty, students, and research affiliates, as described below, and assist specific digital projects, including the Digital Archive of Japan's 2011 disasters <http://www.jdarchive.org/ja/home>.

For further information please visit <http://blog.lib.umn.edu/amstdy/main/2013/01/2013-15-harvard-postdoctoral-f.html>